JURISDICTION AND VENUE

573. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to Tenn. Code. Ann. §16-11-101, 16-11-103 and 16-11-102.

574. Venue is properly situated in Shelby County, Tennessee pursuant to Tenn. Code. Ann. § 20-4-101.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

575. The named plaintiffs (hereinafter “The Families”) seek equitable relief and damages on behalf of themselves and all other families of decedents whose remains were consigned to Galilee. This action alleges breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, reckless and negligent mishandling of remains, negligence, reckless and negligent infliction of emotional distress, and unjust enrichment. Additionally, should a class not be certified, these families seek all recoverable damages and remedies under the Tennessee Consumer Protection Act including treble damages and attorneys’ fees and costs.

576. Because of the exceptional public importance of this case, the need for timely answers to grieving Tennessee families, and the need to ensure that the statute of limitations is tolled. The Families request that the Court provisionally certify this class action as soon as practicable.

577. The extraordinary public importance of this situation was demonstrated on January 24, 2014, when the Shelby County District Attorney General announced that she had executed a search warrant for Galilee Memorial Gardens, and issued the following release:

Jemar Lambert, 38, was arrested by investigators with the District Attorney’s Office who also executed a search warrant for burial records in the cemetery office. Last year Lambert was indicted on charges of theft of property over $60,000 for allegedly selling burial plots to bereaved families on adjacent land not owned by the cemetery that encompasses about nine acres at 8283 Ellis Road. He is scheduled to be in Criminal Court on Feb. 13 on that case. In connection with Friday’s action, the Tennessee Department of Commerce and Insurance, which regulates cemetery and funeral home practices, filed a request for a temporary restraining order shutting down cemetery operations. “We are sensitive to the importance of Galilee Memorial Gardens to countless families and to our community,” Weirich said Friday. “We will continue working with the Department of Commerce and Insurance to resolve this situation respectfully and effectively.” The search warrant and new arrest stem from an investigation that began in November when a search for a missing body led those helping with the search to make a report to the Tennessee Department of Commerce and Insurance. That report indicated the cemetery had improperly buried the remains of three different individuals in the same grave on March 9 and March 12 of last year.

The search warrant seeks cemetery files, computer records and electronic or digital storage data used to record information related to potential criminal acts involving the burial records kept by the cemetery.

In Nashville, Department of Commerce and Insurance Commissioner Julie Mix McPeak and the Tennessee Attorney General's Office also filed a petition asking a Davidson County Court for an order appointing the commissioner as receiver for Galilee Memorial Gardens.

"We believe that the owners and proprietors of Galilee Memorial Gardens cannot act in the best interest of the community," said McPeak. "This is a complex process that involves many moving parts. Know that we are working alongside the Shelby County District Attorney General's Office to identify the extent of issues with Galilee."

578. In addition to the criminal proceedings initiated by The Shelby County District Attorney's Office, the Davidson County Chancery Court appointed the Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Commerce and Insurance as the Receiver for Galilee Memorial Gardens and granted certain injunctive relief. The Cemetery continues to be under the exclusive custody and control of the Receiver and the jurisdiction of the Chancery Court.

579. Mr. Jemar Lambert, an unlicensed owner and operator of Galilee Memorial Gardens, faces charges for theft and abuse of a corpse in Shelby County, TN Criminal Court.

580. The magnitude and complexity of this catastrophe has been described in the local press:

The arrests were followed by revelations about multiple bodies buried in the same grave at Galilee and inaccurate records about who was buried where in the cemetery on Ellis Road east of Germantown Road. Witnesses reported seeing workers crush caskets with the tires of heavy equipment to get multiple caskets in graves, and Galilee employees peeling back the tops of coffins to determine the identities of the corpses. The cemetery apparently was out of space, leading to the practices.

Cemetery operator took case till the end, The Commercial Appeal (Feb. 8, 2014)

Lambert's actions were further described by Shelby County Criminal Court Judge

Lee Coffey during Lambert's bond hearing as a "crime against humanity...and everything that is good."

581. This action is brought pursuant to the applicable provisions of Rule 23 of the TRCP on behalf of a class defined as:

- a) All those who are or were next of kin<sup>1</sup> of any decedent delivered to Galilee for burial from January 1, 2011 through January 31, 2014; and
- b) All persons or entities who were parties to any contract with any defendant regarding funeral arrangements for a decedent who was delivered to Galilee for burial from January 1, 2011 through January 31, 2014.

582. Excluded from the class are the defendants, including an parent, subsidiary, affiliate or controlled person of these entities and their officers, directors, agents, employees and members of their immediate families; and the judicial officers to whom this case is assigned, their staff, and the members of their immediate families.

583. The class and subclass are so numerous that individual joinder of all its members is impracticable.

584. The identities of the class members for purposes of class notice may be readily obtained from the defendants' and public records.

585. In this action, common issues of law and fact relating to the conduct, duty and resulting liability of the defendants predominate over any issues affecting only individual class members.

586. The claims of the Families are typical of the claims of the class. The Families and the class members have been subjected to the same unlawful behavior of the defendants, giving rise to common legal and equitable claims.

<sup>1</sup> Next of kin for purposes of this class is defined pursuant to Akers v. Buckner-Rush Enterprises, Inc., 270 S.W.3d 67 (Tenn. Ct. App. 2007).

587. The Families will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the class and none have any interests that are adverse to the interests of the class.

588. The Families have retained counsel who are competent and experienced in class actions and complex litigation, including in cases involving the desecration, commingling and mishandling of remains.

589. This Court may elect, in its discretion, to maintain these claims as a class action under Rule 23.02(1), (2) and/or (3) of the TRCP.

590. Class certification is appropriate pursuant to Rule 23.02(1) of the TRCP because the prosecution of separate actions by the individual members of the class would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the defendants and/or because adjudications respecting individual members of the class would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of the other members or would risk substantially impairing or impeding their ability to protect their interests.

591. Class certification is also appropriate pursuant to Rule 23.02(2) of the TRCP because the defendants acted on grounds generally applicable to the class, making appropriate equitable, injunctive and/or declaratory relief.

592. Class certification is also appropriate pursuant to Rule 23.02(3) of the TRCP because common issues of law and fact predominate over issues involving only individual class members.

593. A class action approach is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this dispute because common questions of law and fact predominate over any questions that may affect only individual members of the class and there would be significant economies to the courts and the parties in litigating the common issues on a class wide basis rather than in repetitive individual trials. A class action approach is also superior in this matter because hundreds of individual lawsuits would unnecessarily burden the courts, multiply the costs of litigation, and could impede the ability of some class members to receive any compensation at all should the funds available to satisfy individual claims be exhausted. A class approach would consolidate these matters and create fewer management difficulties because it would provide the benefits of unitary adjudication, judicial economy, economies of scale and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

594. Class certification is also appropriate because this Court can designate particular claims or issues for class wide treatment pursuant to Rule 23.03(4)(a) and may designate one or more subclasses pursuant to Rule 23.03(4)(b) of the TRCP.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CLAIMS

595. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

596. Commencing on January 1, 2011 and continuing through January 31, 2014 (hereinafter, “Class Period”) the funeral home defendants contracted with and for the benefit of The Families in this complaint and the class members to provide funeral director services and to accomplish the disposition and burial of loved ones’ remains with dignity and respect in keeping with public sensibilities and in accordance with the law.

597. Under Tennessee law, only properly qualified and licensed persons can engage in the disposal and burial of human remains. See T.C.A. § 62-5-303 and 62-5-101(6)(A)(defining “Funeral Directing” as the “practice of directing or supervising funerals or the practice of preparing dead human bodies for burial by any means...”) Licensing requires continuing education and ethics. See Rules of the Tennessee Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers, Ch. 0660-10. It is specifically prohibited for a person who is not duly registered and licensed as a funeral director to engage in funeral directing. See T.C.A § 62-5-303 (b). It is further required that no employee or member of any firm or corporation shall engage in the care, preparation, disposal or burial of dead bodies unless he is a licensed funeral director. See T.C.A § 62-5-313(a). Under Tennessee law, there are requirements that the license issued to a funeral establishment be for a period of two years and is not transferable or assignable. See T.C.A § 62-5-315. Grounds for the suspension, denial or revocation of a license under T.C.A § 62-5-317(5) include an applicant or holder of a funeral license knowingly permitting an unlicensed person to engage in the profession or business of funeral director or embalming under the applicant's or holder's supervision. Under Tennessee law funeral directing includes the "practice of preparing human bodies for burial by any means." See T.C.A § 62-5-101(6)(A)(i). T.C.A § 62-5-317(b)(1) prohibits misrepresentation or fraud in the conduct of the business of the funeral establishment. T.C.A § 62-5-317(b)(6) prohibits "Aiding or abetting an unlicensed person to practice within the funeral profession." Tennessee law requires that a cemetery company shall maintain its cemeteries so as to reflect respect to the memory of the dead in keeping with the reasonable sensibilities of survivors whose remains are interred in the cemeteries. See T.C. A. § 46-1-304 (a).

598. Contrary to their contractual, fiduciary and non-delegable duties, the defendants commonly and systematically failed, throughout the Class Period, to accomplish the burial and disposition of the remains entrusted to them with the dignity and respect expected of them by public sensibilities and required of them by law. Rather than discharging their duties to The Families and the class members by fully and faithfully carrying out their obligations, and without describing their actual practices or obtaining express written permission therefore, the defendants knowingly, recklessly and/or negligently permitted and facilitated the disrespectful, improper and illegal mishandling, misplacement, loss and desecration of the remains of the decedents.

599. Throughout the Class Period, the Galilee defendants systematically and commonly mishandled, desecrated, abused and commingled the remains of the decedents in a manner offensive to human sensibilities and/or expressly prohibited by law. The Galilee defendants operated without a valid license and/or certificate, disinterred bodies without necessary court orders, stacked multiple caskets in single burial plots, crushed caskets in order to fit many caskets into single burial plots, misplaced or completely lost track of remains, and buried bodies without authorization on neighboring property owned by third parties both before and after a Restraining Order was issued by Chancery Court of Shelby County enjoining Galilee from encroaching on the neighboring property.

600. The funeral home defendants knew or reasonably should have known that Galilee was not licensed as of December 31, 2010, and that burials at Galilee were improper and illegal after that date. See Tenn. Code. Ann § 46-1-103, and Verified Petition for the Appointment of the Commissioner as Receiver for Galilee Memorial Gardens and for Temporary and Permanent Injunctive Relief. The funeral home defendants also knew or reasonably should have known that the individual who held the Galilee license had died months before the license expired, and in the exercise of reasonable and ordinary care for their profession, should have inquired as to Galilee's authority to conduct business and its licensing status once the license-holder passed away.

601. The funeral home defendants contracted and charged for burial services and then, in violation of their contractual and legal duty, abandoned the remains at Galilee, negligently and recklessly failed to supervise the burials and, instead, allowed unlicensed agents and/or employees of Galilee to perform the burials and unlawful acts alleged in this complaint.

Furthermore, these defendants allowed agents and/or employees of Galilee to perform tasks and duties legally entrusted exclusively to licensed funeral directors. Galilee did not have an agent and/or employee who was a licensed funeral director at any time relevant to the claims alleged.

602. Tennessee law and the standards of conduct for funeral directors required each funeral director in charge of the funeral for each class member personally to ensure that the burial of the deceased was accomplished in a proper fashion. By ignoring Tennessee law and their professional responsibilities, they allowed Galilee's unlawful and reprehensible practices to become routine. In breaching the contractual and solemn duties the funeral home defendants owed, these defendants also injured multiple parties not in privity with them by allowing Galilee to unlawfully disturb the graves and the remains of other decedents who had been buried at Galilee before and after December 31, 2010.

603. Had a licensed funeral director actually supervised the burials at Galilee, as was required by law, the unlawful mishandling and desecration of these remains would never have occurred. Galilee's unlawful business practices included stacking multiple, unrelated bodies in the same grave, removing caskets and bodies from graves and crushing them, losing bodies, illegally removing bodies from purchased burial plots, burying individuals in plots previously purchased by other families specifically for family members to be laid to rest next to their loved ones and spouses, and illegally trespassing on neighboring land for purposes of burial.

604. Every funeral home and funeral director that did business with Galilee had a legal, non-delegable duty to ensure the burial of the decedents' remains was accomplished through a licensed and qualified (competent) facility. Each defendant further had a contractual and legal responsibility to investigate with due diligence to determine that the cemetery to which they were bringing remains for burial services was licensed and operating within the bounds of the law.

605. In gross and unconscionable dereliction of their contractual, moral, ethical and legal duties, the defendants uniformly failed to investigate the practices of Galilee, willfully ignored open and obvious conditions at the cemetery that should have been reported to the proper authorities, failed to ensure that the contracted for services were being provided and, perhaps most critically, failed to supervise the actual burials for which they were exclusively responsible.

606. Moreover, the funeral home defendants failed to inform The Families and the class members that their loved ones' remains would be taken for burial to an uncertified Tennessee cemetery, that the funeral home defendants' sacred, legal and contractual duties for the proper and respectful disposition of remains would be handed over to an unlicensed and unqualified cemetery in violation of Tennessee law, and that the funeral director defendants would abandon the remains at Galilee with no investigation whatsoever of its practices, no care or effort to ensure the remains were treated with respect and in accordance with the law and no thought for the ultimate treatment and disposition of the remains.

607. The failure of each of the funeral home defendants to discharge the duty of special care to ensure that the remains entrusted to their care were handled and laid to rest respectfully and lawfully contributed to and caused harm to The Families and the class as a whole. Had any one of the defendant funeral homes inspected, supervised or monitored Galilee's practices, as this special duty requires, Galilee's practices would have been discovered and stopped before widespread injury took place. Because each of the funeral home defendants failed to meet its duty, Galilee was able to continue, undiscovered, its practice of mishandling, commingling and desecrating the remains of the loved ones of family after family. Through the defendants' knowing, reckless, or negligent failure to discover and disclose the true nature of the practices, and procedures utilized at Galilee, each defendant contributed to and caused harm to every member of the class by enabling and facilitating the mishandling, commingling and desecration of the decedents' remains.

608. Furthermore, at all material times, Galilee was the agent, ostensible agent, servant, employee, representative, joint venturer, and associate of the funeral home defendants in effectuating the respectful and lawful disposition of the remains that are the subject matter of this action. At all material times, Galilee was acting within the course and scope of that authority and with the knowledge, authorization, consent, permission or ratification of each of the other defendants. The funeral home defendants owed a non-delegable contractual duty to The Families and to the class members to ensure that the remains of their loved one were respectfully laid to rest, in accordance with all legal obligations. The funeral homes breached that duty and thus are vicariously liable for the actions of Galilee, regardless of whether Galilee was an agent of defendants or an independent contractor.

609. Because of the nature of the conduct alleged herein, this is an appropriate case to pierce the corporate veil or hold the parent and affiliate corporations of all defendants liable under theories of alter-ego, domination, control, agency by estoppel, misrepresentation and unconscionability.

610. The Families are now informed and believe, and thereon allege, that their decedents were subjected to the unlawful and improper practices of Galilee. Their loved ones' remains were not laid to rest with dignity and respect or in accordance with their wishes or the law. Instead, their remains were subjected by the defendants to mishandling, abuse, misplacement, and desecration. The families have been and continue to be deprived of any closure and a final resting place for their loved ones.

611. Perhaps more horrifying to The Families and the class members is the knowledge that, because the defendants exercised complete control over the remains of the decedents and due to the defendants' improper and unlawful desecration of the remains, including the efforts to conceal the bad acts, many families whose loved ones were abandoned at Galilee by the funeral home defendants may never know the final resting place of their loved ones and will never know to what treatment their loved ones' remains were subjected.

612. Moreover, as a proximate result of (a) the representations of defendants that the decedents' remains would be and had been handled and laid to rest in the lawfully authorized and requested manner, with dignity and respect; (b) the defendants' possession and control of the decedents' remains, and complete control over the manner of treatment of these remains; and (c) the concealment by the defendants of the mistreatment, mishandling, and desecration of the remains, The Families and class members did not discover that their decedents' remains were subjected to the defendants' misconduct until within one year preceding the filing of this complaint.

COUNT 1: BREACH OF CONTRACT

613. The allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs are incorporated as if fully set forth herein.

614. The Families and the class members and/or their decedents entered into written or oral contracts with the funeral home defendants and with the Galilee defendants to obtain and ensure the disposition of the decedents' remains in an individual, dignified, respectful and lawful manner. The expectations of The Families and the class members, as reasonable persons, were that these contracts, expressly or by reasonable implication, assured the legal, dignified and respectful disposition of their decedents' remains.

615. The defendants have copies of all written contracts with The Families and the class members.

616. These contracts uniformly omitted material information regarding Galilee's actual practices, Galilee's unlicensed status, and the funeral home defendants' failure to carry out their duties including to ensure the burial was proper and lawful, and to inspect, monitor or supervise Galilee's laying to rest of the decedents' remains.

617. The Families and the class members were the natural and intended beneficiaries of those written and oral contracts.

618. The Families and the class members and/or their decedents performed all promises, covenants and conditions required on their part to be performed pursuant to the contracts and have fully paid the agreed-upon price for the defendants' services.

619. The funeral home defendants and the Galilee defendants breached their contracts with The Families and the class members by improperly handling or causing or allowing the improper handling of the decedent's remains, by failing to supervise and ensure proper, respectful burials, and by failing to disclose the true nature of Galilee's practices and conduct and their own lack of care, concern or investigation of what would befall the remains at Galilee.

620. As a direct and proximate cause of the defendants' breaches of their contractual agreements, The Families and the class members have suffered damages and losses including (a) the amounts they previously paid the defendants for funeral directing and burial services, and (b) the amounts that The Families and class members have incurred and will incur in attempting to recover, identify and respectfully lay their loved ones' remains to rest.

COUNT II: EQUITABLE (INJUNCTIVE AND/OR DECLARATORY) RELIEF

621. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

622. The remains of the decedents were improperly and unlawfully handled while in the defendants' exclusive possession and control, without the authorization, knowledge, permission, consent or ratification of The Families or the class members. The decedents' remains were not afforded individual, respectful and dignified disposition and were, instead, mishandled, abused and desecrated.

623. The Families and the class members are charged by law, by their own perceived moral obligations and ethical duties and by natural sentiments to accomplish the disposition of their decedents' remains as requested by the decedents, as set forth in the funeral services contracts with the defendants, and in keeping with public sensibilities and the law.

624. No adequate remedy at law exists to address the desecration of the decedents' remains and, due to the defendants' actions, there may be no way to undo the injustices that have been done. Worse, many family members who entrusted their departed loved ones to the defendants many never be able to learn the true fate of their loved ones' remains.

625. Accordingly, The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, request the following equitable relief:

- a) A judicial determination and declaration of the rights of Families and the class and the responsibilities of the defendants with respect to the remains that are the subject of this action;
- b) That the defendants disclose to The Families and the class, insofar as is possible, the whereabouts of the desecrated remains so that The Families and the class may carry out the dignified and respectful disposition of same;

- c) That the property upon which the remains were desecrated and interred be held in trust for the benefit of the class pending the ultimate disposition by the Court;
- d) That the defendants be enjoined to cease and desist all mishandling, and desecration of human remains; and
- e) That the defendants be determined and declared to be financially responsible for the costs and expenses of accomplishing any and all dignified and respectful disposition of the decedents' remains as may be possible.

COUNT III: BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY

626. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

627. The funeral home defendants sought and undertook a position of special trust and confidence with the Families and the class members. The funeral home defendants undertook and assumed responsibility for the funeral, disposition and burial services for The Families and the class. The Families and the class members placed special trust and confidence in the funeral home defendants for these services.

628. Thus the funeral home defendants had fiduciary relationships with The Families and the class members.

629. The funeral home defendants were under a duty to exercise good faith and due diligence, and to act with due regard for the interests of The Families and the class in effectuating the proper, lawful, dignified laying to rest of the remains of their loved ones.

630. The funeral home defendants breached their fiduciary duties to The Families and the class as described herein including my mishandling the decedents' remains, and causing, contributing to, or aiding and abetting Galilee's mishandling by knowingly failing to supervise, monitor and assure the final laying to rest of the decedents' remains, and by failing to assure that Galilee's operations were conducted properly, respectfully, and in accordance with all applicable law and regulations.

631. As a direct and proximate result of the defendants' breach of fiduciary duty, The Families and the class have suffered and continue to suffer injury and damages.

COUNT IV: RECKLESS AND NEGLIGENT MISHANDLING OF REMAINS

632. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

633. The Families and the class, as the decedents' next of kin, had or have a personal quasi-property right to control the disposition of the remains of their loved ones.

634. The Families and the class expressed their wishes to the defendants regarding the manner in which the remains were to be handled.

635. The defendants had the opportunity to comply with The Families' and the class member's expressed wishes.

636. The defendants, however, recklessly and negligently mishandled the decedents' remains, and/or caused, contributed to, or aided and abetted Galilee's mishandling by knowingly failing to supervise, monitor and assure the final laying to rest of the decedents' remains, and by failing to assure that Galilee's operations were conducted properly, respectfully, and in accordance with all applicable law and regulations. The defendants' conduct was accomplished through a common course and practice of improper handling of remains, resulting from the defendants' own recklessness, negligence, and reckless and negligent entrustment of the decedents' remains to persons who lacked the qualifications, training, sensitivity, experience and integrity required to handle the remains properly and by the defendants' reckless and negligent failure to control, supervise and investigate the actions of such persons and entities.

637. Through this conduct, the defendants interfered with the rights and responsibilities of The Families and the class to effect the proper disposition of the remains with utmost dignity, in accordance with the law and their wishes, requests and beliefs.

638. The defendants' mishandling of the remains and their interference with the rights of The Families and the class precluded The Families and the class from exercising their rights and performing their responsibilities of appropriately disposing of the remains of their decedents.

639. As a direct, known, foreseeable and proximate result of the reckless and negligent mishandling of the remains by the defendants, The Families and the class have suffered and continue to suffer injury and damages.

COUNT V. NEGLIGENCE AND RECKLESS AND NEGLIGENT INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

640. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the proceeding paragraphs and further allege:

641. At all material times, the defendants owed a duty to The Families and the class to act with the ordinary care of a reasonable professional in the field with respect to all aspects of the services promised including, but not limited to, all phases of the disposition and burial process, including but not limited to the hiring, retention, training and supervision of all agents, employees and representatives of the defendants, the management and administration of the services and transaction, the association with other persons and entities to accomplish the performance of such services, the performance of and supervision and assurance of the individual, proper and respectful performance of all steps of the disposition and burial process, and the ascertainment that all such services were being fully and properly undertaken and performed.

642. The defendants negligently and recklessly failed to discharge these duties.

643. The defendants further negligently and recklessly violated the statutes set forth above, thus invoking the doctrine of negligence per se.

644. As a proximate cause of the defendants' recklessness and negligence, The Families and the class members have suffered damages, including but not limited to serious and severe mental injuries and emotional distress that no reasonable person could be expected to endure or adequately cope with.

COUNT VI: UNJUST ENRICHMENT

645. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

646. The Families and the class members conferred a benefit upon the defendants, which the defendants received. Specifically The Families and the class members made payments for funeral directing services for the proper, respectful disposition and burial of their decedents' remains.

647. The defendants have been and will continue to be unjustly enriched at the expense of The Families and the members of the class by accepting payments from The Families and the class for services which they not only failed to render as promised but which were provided in a completely inappropriate, unauthorized, unlawful and egregious manner.

648. It would be inequitable to permit the defendants to retain the benefits they have wrongfully gained through these actions, which they accordingly hold in constructive trust for, and must be ordered to restore to, The Families and the class.

COUNT VII: PUNITIVE DAMAGES

649. The Families, on behalf of themselves and the class, re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

650. In mishandling or causing or contributing to the mishandling of the remains of the decedents, the defendants acted intentionally, fraudulently, maliciously, or recklessly, and in conscious disregard of the rights of The Families and the class.

651. The Families and the class are, therefore, entitled to punitive damages from the defendants in such amount as shall be necessary and appropriate to punish the defendants and to deter them and anyone else from ever committing similar indecencies upon human remains.

COUNT VIII: VIOLATION OF THE TENNESSEE CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT
(ASSERTED SOLELY IN THE EVENT CLASS CERTIFICATION IS DENIED)

652. The Families re-allege and incorporate herein, as if set forth in full, each and every allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs and further allege:

653. In addition to the above claims, in the event this Court does not grant class action certification, The Families individually assert claims against the defendants under the Tennessee Consumer Protection Act.

654. The defendants' conduct was unfair and/or deceptive as defined in Tenn. Code. Ann §47-18-104. The defendants deceptively represented that they would perform their sacred and contractual duties with the legally and ethically required care to ensure that the decedents' remains would be treated with dignity and respect and would be laid to rest appropriately under the standards of human decency and the law.

655. To the contrary, the defendants abandoned the remains at an unlicensed, unsupervised, illegal operation, without a care, thought or provision for the ultimate fate of the remains.

656. The defendants' deceptive practices are all the more egregious under the circumstances, given the emotional vulnerability of The Families when they were contracting with the defendants, and the fact that The Families were required to entrust the remains of their loved ones entirely to the defendants to perform the disposition services. The funeral home defendants, in fact, are well aware of and specifically trained in the vulnerability and fragility of those grieving the recent loss of a loved one.

657. The defendants' unfair and/or deceptive practices were knowing and willful. Contrary to their representations about the seriousness and professionalism with which they would provide their services, the defendants knew – unlike The Families – either that Galilee was unlicensed or knew that they, the defendants, had not made any reasonable inquiry into Galilee's status. The defendants further knew that they would not supervise the burial, nor would they ensure that the decedent's remains were treated lawfully and respectfully and were laid to rest appropriately. The defendants – unlike The Families – also knew that they would abandon the remains at Galilee without another thought or care for how the remains were treated or laid to rest.

658. As a direct and proximate result of the defendants' unfair and/or deceptive practices, The Families suffered an ascertainable loss of money as well as interference with their quasi-property right in the remains of their loved ones for the purpose of final disposition of the remains.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

659. A jury trial is demanded.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, The Families, individually and on behalf of the class, request the following relief:

- (c) An award of compensatory damages in an amount deemed appropriate by the trier of fact, jointly and severally against the defendants;
- (d) An award of punitive damages, jointly and severally against the defendants;
